BACKGROUND AND OVERVIEW

As from 2015, the Master of Advanced studies in international Taxation of the University of Lausanne is committed to offer periodical updates on important international tax policy developments. In this first session, Mr. Pierpaolo Rossi (Member of the Legal Service, EU Commission) will analyse the growing importance of EU State aid rules in the field of Tax Rulings, APA'S and Mismatch arrangements and the importance of these rules for third countries such as Switzerland. Indeed, on 17 December 2014 the European Commission decided to enlarge the enquiry into tax ruling practices under EU state aid rules to cover all Member States. Professor David Rosenbloom (Director of the International Tax Program at NYU and Partner, Caplin and Drysdale) will then offer an overview of the most recent US position on BEPS as well as on the reform of the US international tax system. Dr. Philip Baker (Senior Visiting Fellow at the University of London and Barrister, Field Court Tax Chambers) will present the UK position on BEPS with a particular emphasis on most recent developments such as patent boxes and the UK tax on diverted profits. The speakers' presentation shall then be followed by a discussion with the audience, which we shall moderate with Professor Guglielmo Maisto (Professor at the Catholic University of Piacenza, Founding Partner, Maisto e Associati).

This half day interactive seminar is intended to provide a forum to discuss all of the foregoing issues. The seminar is in particular aimed at senior practitioners, group tax counsels, members of tax administrations, tax policy advisors and academic researchers.

We look forward to welcoming you in Lausanne and to our fruitful discussions.

Yours sincerely,

Prof. Dr. Robert J. Danon
Professor of Swiss and international tax law at the University of Lausanne
